BEST SNOW IN COLORADO

Three Storms in One Week; another 13 inches falls on Purgatory Mountain

Durango, CO – A third storm system moved into southwestern Colorado beginning Wednesday with storm warnings continuing through Thursday evening. Over 13 inches of new snow fell at Purgatory Mountain today and the snow is still falling. With this latest snow, the resort has a 48-inch mid-mountain base depth with powder/packed powder conditions.

This is the third blizzard in the first two weeks of the winter season turning Durango Mountain Resort into a winter wonderland. The resort has received nearly 4 feet of snow this week surpassing the record snowfall the 2007/2008 season. As the resort has received more snow the Mountain Operations crews have been hard at work readying more terrain. Lift 2 will open on Friday, December 19, and Lift 3 will open on Saturday, December 20. Crews are hoping to have the entire resort open for the holidays.

The snow came just in time for the holidays; with conditions that are unbeatable in Colorado this magical time of year will be even more special for our guests. This winter enjoy the New Years Eve Torchlight Parade and Fireworks Spectacular and afterwards warm up inside Purgy's; listen to live music from the Hounds of Purg and ring in the New Year in style.

Take your family on the most memorable ski vacation of their lives at an unparalleled value. With something for everyone and amenities designed to make sure that even Mom is happy and having fun-it's going to be a vacation that you'll want to share with friends and family and where everyone in the family will be giddy to return. This winter Durango Mountain Resort is offering hassle free air-inclusive packages with Frontier Airlines, and Buy 3 days of skiing and lodging packages and get the 4th day and night free. The Reservation Center can be contacted at 1-800-982-6103.
